

LeisureTech launches new Forte Electronics website

25 May 2011 | Industry news

LeisureTech Electronics, a prominent importer of custom AV products which can only be distributed in Australia, launches its new website today.

For international clients outside Australia, Forte Electronics is the manufacturing division of LeisureTech, offering the product lines of Forte A-BUS, Forte IR and Forte Intercom. These three lines are made available for international purchase either through the distributor listed in the locator section or directly from LeisureTech.

The Forte website has quicker navigation of the products and their applications. Links from the LeisureTech site will take you to the site for Forte A-BUS, IR & Intercom.

You can either access it via the LeisureTech website or its own URLs at www.forte-electronics.com or www.forte-electronics.com.au.

Coming soon, you will be able to design a Forte A-BUS system electronically on the web for any installation such as apartment, family and designer homes.
